WORK OF OLD DOMINION TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

GRADUATING EXERCISES YESTERDAY.

Miss Cabinis Reads the Second Annual Report of the School and Dr. Stone, of Washington, Delivers the Address-Other Exercises.

The second annual graduating exercises of the Old Dominion Training School most complete course of two years. The present is not the time or place for me amphitheatre of the Medical College of Virginia yesterday afternoon. There was a large number of interested spectators present, including friends of the nurses, members of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of the Old Dominion Hospital, and Drs. J. B. McCaw, presidents of the Board of Visitors; M. L. James, Mar-

They were followed by the superintendent of the hospital and principal of the training school, Miss Sadie E. Cabinis; Dr. Tompkins, dean of the college; Dr. George Ben. Johnston, Rev. Dr. Carmichaei, Dr. J. S. Stone, chosen orator of the occasion, and Mrs. Shields, who of bright and cheerful disposition.

THE PRINCIPAL'S REPORT. Miss Cabinis then read the second an-nual report of the training school, ending 1897, as follows: ay, 1896, the Board of Managers kindly authorized the appointment of a clinic nurse, or assistant to the superin-tendent of the hospital, until senior pupils should become sufficiently experienced to undertake the more re-sponsible parts of hospital work. Miss Emily Baechtel, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, accepted the position for six months, or longer, if required. In No-vember, 1836, some executive experience being considered essential to the com plete training of our pupil nurses, three senfor pupils were appointed to head nurse duty, and Miss Baechiel's services reluctantly dispensed with. In variou ways the plan has proven a most admi-

The present home for nurses was obtained for our use in July, 1886. Though it has been exceedingly comfortable, even more commodious quarters are de-sirable, especially for the comfort of the probation class, which always of neces-sity begins before the graduates leave. The health of the nurses has not been so good as during the previous year. One case of typhold-fever was the only very serious or protracted illness.

The number of applications to the school increases. For the past year-formal applications, %; favorably considered, 60; probation appointments, 15; probationers accepted, 8; present staff, senior pupils, 9; also, graduating class; junior pupils, 11; superintendent of hospital and principal of training school, 1. PRACTICAL HOUSEKEEPING.

The American Association of Superintendents of Nurses, whose object is the promotion of the interests and elevation of the standard of the nursing profession of the standard of the nursing procession in its efforts to establish a uniform cur-riculum in the training schools, decided to include some practical knowledge of housekeeping, the ordering of supplies, invalid cookery, and also neatness (per-sonal and professional), excellence in ward work, and deportment of the pupils in addition to the general requirements in theoretical work. This we have also

The usual lectures and demonstrations have been given to junior and senior classes by the faculty of the Medical College of Virginia, and the regular class instruction by the principal of the training school. The Nurses' Nightingale Club has enjoyed some excellent papers contributed by graduates of the papers contributed by graduates of the larger schools, who feel special interest in southern nursing.

In August, 1896, the pupil nurses on duty in the Soldiers' Home Hospital of Lee Camp Confederate Veterans were recalled, since the directors were unwill-ing to adopt measures by which the nurses (undergraduates) would be relieved of responsibilities and duties pro-perly belonging to the surgeon in charge. The Board of Directors expressed great regret at the withdrawal of the nurses, and also the highest appreciation of their faithful service and kindness while on duty at the home. The nurses aban-doned their work reluctantly, feeling, as they did, a southern woman's interest in each and all Confederate veterans. The outside obstetric service has improved considerably, since 1826. Each case has been provided with one or more nurses, daily visits from the nurse so long as required, averaging seven to ten visits for each patient. Most of the cases were supplied with clothing and many with suitable food and medicine.

DISTRICT NURSING A FEATURE.

Very much more has been accomplished in district nursing, and I am pleased to believe it is gaining some ground in popular favor, and may yet flourish, even popular lavor, and may yet hourse, even in the South and Richmond. It is a charity which will appeal more strongly to the masses than any other, and for this reason do more towards elevating

Twenty-one weeks of special nursing have been given during the year absolutely free. Desiring to aid a class of patients un-waling to accept the ministrations of the district nurse, and yet unable to meet the charges for the service of graduate or pupil nurses, a system of visiting nursing was proposed in September last. This was promptly sanctioned, and earnestly aided by their Board of Managers, both personally and indirectly. In this man-mer the sick, both in private families and in institutions unable to afford the ex-pense of a resident nurse, have been most satisfactorily cared for. There is no charge by the visiting system except for the time actually devoted to the care dring to aid a class of patients unof the patient, thus enabling one nurse to help and care for several patients in different parts of the city.

ALUMNAE HAVE ORGANIZED. The graduates of the Training School, which is now entering upon its third year, have proceeded to organize an Alumnae Association. The object of this association will be the promotion of the interests of the nursing profession, the interests of the nursing profession, the establishment of a benefit fund for its sick or disabled members, or the endowment of a bed or room in the Old Dominion Hospital for the use of the il graduates, and also to ultimately secure and establish a nurses' home and club for the accommodation of both our pupil and graduate nurses. graduate nurses.

It is evident that the school and its work has developed considerably during the past year. Positions as superintendents, or head nurse, and graduate assistants, have been offered the graduates in Austin (Tex.), Montgomery (Ala.), two in Virginia, two in Maryland. Applications for a post-graduate course have been received from graduates of some of the northern schools not attached to the northern schools not attached to general hospitals.

Whatever we may have achieved is due to the generous interest and assist-ance of the faculty of the Medical College of Virginia and the Woman's Board of Managers, and the appreciation of their efforts as materially expressed by the City Council.
In closing this report I desire to ex-

In closing this report I desire to express my appreciation of the courteous consideration and co-operation extended to me at all times by the faculty, especially the hospital staff; and I also acknowledged with pleasure the encouraging approval and prompt support of my plans by the Board of Managers.

ADDACTICAL ADDACTS

A PRACTICAL ADDRESS. Dr. J. J. Stone, of Washington, was introduced as the orator of the occasion He extended a very cordial welcome to the graduates, and said, in part: have met this afternoon to do henor to this graduating class. Great credit is due them. I am informed that this particular class has passed through a to you nurses, from a practical stand-point, that the first requisite for the nurses' calling is good health. Next comes the gospel of cleanliness, not only shall, Tompkins, Teusier, Lee, Cosby, in dress and appearance, but in body Keel, Johnson, Levy, and Matthews, and mind. Cultivate tact. Nurses should also cultivate silence. should not speak of a former patient should not speak of a former park of refine-ment. Let your ide-be a high one. The sick room needs refinement and cul-ture. Cultivate observation. Very much depends on the cheerfulness of a nurse. Nothing so helps the feeble to forget their ills as being ministered to by one had consented to deliver the badges.

The nurses occupied seats on the front benches, while those who were to take part in the exercises were seated upon the rostrum.

The proceedings were opened with prayer by Dr. Carmichael.

Dr. Tompkins announced the object of the westling and cheerful disposition. It must be exceptional that you sing the praises of one physician to another. It must be exceptional that you sing the praises of one physician to another. It is unpartdenable to mention to a patient the virtue and ability of some other physician than the one in attendance. It is better to express no opinion at all than to speak disrespectfully of a professional man. Do not be too anxious, lest your work should be done without reward. You will earn what you get, but remember that physicians do much

Mrs. Grace M. Shields then presented the badges. In doing so, she said the badges were not merely a souvenir of the school, but were of as much value as diplomas. It is a mark of promotio and professional standing, given t nurses as part of their equipment.

She spoke of the significance of the word "Fideles," adopted by the class of 1806, and urged all to be faithful to their to the nurse most faithful in every de partment of hospital work, which was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Kellam; the second, a badge, to the nurse who had responded most cheerfully to all emergency calls, and had been first to volungency calls, and had been first to volunteer for extra service, awarded to Miss Frances Peyton Ellyson. The third honor was an appointment to the staff of nurses at Wilson Sanatarium, Maryland, given to Miss A. F. Hudson, as the nurse who had been the most satisfactory to doctors, patients, the superintendent and head nurses. tendent, and head nurses.

THE NINE GRADUATES. Dr. George Ben. Johnston delivered the diplomas, which were tied with old gold and gray ribbons, the colors of the nurses' school. He gave expression to the keen interest he felt in the school.

Dr. Stone had alluded to the necessity of a nurse attaining 75 per cent, in her examinations; it gave him pleasure, he said, to announce that the average of this class had been 871-2 per cent., this class had been 871-2 per cent, which was a very much higher average than that of any class turned out from the Medical College. He then conferred diplomas on the following graduates:

Misses F. P. Ellyson, E. D. Kearns, A. W. W. Schliggton, A. L. T. Hudson, E. M. Washington, A. L. Smith, C. H. Johnson, C. W. Kreultner, B. U. Kellam, and C. T. Woods.
Following the presentation of the diplomas, each graduate was the recipient of bouquets and clusters of roses, sent by their friends, and the exercises closed with benediction pronounced by Dr. Car-

Miss Jackson to Wed Mr. Arnold.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss St. George Jackson, formerly of Petersburg, to Mr. B. W. Arnold, Jr., of Mt. Vale, is a matter of interest to the friends of both parties in Richmond. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock on June 19th at 32 south Third street, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Christian. The marriage will be perfectly quiet, owing to the recent affliction in Mrs. Christian's family, only the near relatives and a few intimate friends being present. There will be no cards.

Miss Jackson is well known in her native town, and during her stay in Richmond has made numerous friends here. Mr. Arnold has for the past session been an instructor in McCabe's University School, is an A. M. of Randolph-Macon College, Virginia, and Ph. D. of Johns Hopkins University. He is a young man of fine character and great promise. Miss Jackson to Wed Mr. Arnold.

Children's-Day services were held at Barton Heights and Fairmount Methodist churches Sunday. The attendance at both places was large, and the exercises were listened to with a great deal of interest. There were ten additions to the membership of the different Methodist churches in the city Sunday.

Holes in Your Health.

What does that mean? Suppose you are taking in money all day, and drop it into a pocket with holes; you will find yourself a loser instead of a gainer by the day's business. Same with your health. You eat and drink and sleep, yet lose instead of gain strength. There's a hole in your health. Some blood disease, probably, sapping your vitality.
